Women's Day Special Catalogue

Women's Day doesn't have to be loud to be meaningful.

Continuity, Not Consumption

At Rangbheeni, we are not inventing sustainability, we are remembering it.

Long before it became policy language, our mothers and grandmothers practiced it every day. Sarees were repurposed, fabric became patchwork, and embroidery or appliqué were acts of care, not decoration.

Rooted in the Gondwana region of Madhya Pradesh, we carry forward that relationship with material, land, and labour, where nothing was waste and everything had continuity.

Rangbheeni exists to bring that perspective back.
